BILL WOULD ABOLISH DEATH PENALTY

REP. TAYLOR WHITE INTRODUCED MEASURE IN HOUSE THURSDAY

ELIMINATION OF CAPITAL PUNISHMENT IS ADVOCATED BY GOVERNOR O'DANIEL

AUSTIN, Feb. 20.—(P)—A bill to abolish the death penalty was introduced in the house today by Rep. Taylor White of Odessa.

Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel has advocated elimination of capital punishment.

A bill offered two years ago to accomplish that purpose failed to get out of committee.

The governor has consistently granted each person sentenced to electrocution a 30-day stay, the maximum he is empowered to grant without a recommendation by the state parole board.

The emergency clause of White's bill stated that "the death penalty is barbarous and inhuman."

By a vote of 110 to 13, the house passed a senate bill exempting army post exchanges from the state cigarette tax. The bill was handled in the lower chamber by First Lieut. James E. Taylor, representative from Kerens.

A resolution intended to reduce the number of speeches to the legislature by J. K. Hileman, young representative from Atlanta. After discussion it was sent to the rules committee. A few minutes later, the house unanimously invited Governor Sam Jones of Louisiana to address a joint session of the legislature next Monday.

Too Much Time Lost.

Hileman and Preston Anderson, veteran representative from San Antonio, said speeches and entertainment were taking up time which should be spent on legislation. Anderson appealed to his colleagues to "stay on the job five days a week," asserting that "there is a lot of bills on the calendar now." The house and senate frequently adjourn from Thursday until Monday.

The Bexar county delegation wrangled for a time on a local bill, causing one house member to speak facetiously that each Thursday be set aside as Bexar County Day.

House and senate adopted a free conference committee report on a bill authorizing supplemental school census enumeration in the school districts whose enrollment has been swelled by defense industries and encampments. The districts would be given additional per capita apportionment from the available school fund.

Cities Principally Affected.

Primarily affected, sponsors said, were Abilene, Arlington, Bracketville, Brownsville, Brownwood, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Garland, Grand Prairie, Laredo, Marshall, Mineral Wells, Orange, Palacios, San Antonio, South San Antonio.

TEXANS BEGIN WEEK-END OF WASHINGTON CELEBRATIONS AND BROWNSVILLE CHARRO DAYS

By RICHARD WEST Associated Press Staff

Far away from exploding bomb and sharpnel, Texans today begin a week-end of celebrations and fiestas dedicated to better relations with friends below the Rio Grande.

Solidarity of the Americans—culturally, fraternally—was the goal of quiet Washington commemorative planned Saturday in hundreds of communities honoring the "father of the good neighbor policy."

But down on the border—the U-turn of the nation-folks had other plans. Thousands will sing and play in fiesta spirit noted for its color and cultural significance.

Brownsville today had 100,000 visitors—many of them winter tourists from east—for Charro Days which through Sunday will recreate the spirit of the frontier when the lazy Rio Grande was no border.

Street dancing, troubadour singing, a bloodless bullfight, Indian rodeo—Brownsville will spare nothing. Men will grow beards and dress like the Charro—a glorified Mexican cowboy—

Reported Japan Sending Troops Hainan Island

SHANGHAI, Feb. 20.—(P)—Reports for which the Associated Press was unable to obtain direct confirmation circulated here tonight that Japanese army contingents, packed aboard transports, were moving southward from Formosa and even Japan proper, presumably headed for Hainan, and off the south China coast, or northern Indo-China.

The reports were considered by some observers to indicate Japan's reaction to the arrival of many thousand Australian fighting men at Singapore, Britain's oriental fortress.

In London the British Broadcasting company reported it had picked up a broadcast announcement by Domei Japanese news agency—of a meeting of heads of the Japanese fighting services and the cabinet to discuss "latest development" in the world situation.

Hainan has been considered a likely stepping stone for any Japanese move southward toward Singapore or the Dutch East Indies. Japan already has some 13,000 troops in northern Indo-China and small contingents have been entering there recently.

Other reports were received that Japan had demanded, at the Tokyo "peace conference" between Thailand and French Indo-China, the use of bases and transport facilities in those two countries.

HILLMAN DECLARES STRIKE LEGISLATION IS NOT NECESSARY

ASSOCIATION DEFENSE PRODUCTION CHIEF SAYS DEFENSE STRIKES RARE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—(P)—Sidney J. Hillman, associate chief of defense production told the house judiciary committee today that "strikes are a rare exception in defense industry" and no additional legislation was necessary to deal with them.

He praised labor and management for the job they were doing together to avoid interruption of production, and said they should be encouraged "in their use of the democratic conference table technique."

The committee, which is divided over the need for remedial legislation to cope with defense production stoppages, called Hillman for testimony after hearing from his colleague, William S. Knudsen, director of the office of production management.

Knudsen informed the committee yesterday that labor disputes had not caused any important delays. He recommended no legislative action under the circumstances.

Hillman, in a formal statement, said labor relations in defense industries had a remarkable record for the past seven months. He listed vital industries—aircraft, aluminum, automobiles, steel, electrical machinery, engines, explosives, foundries and machine shops, machine tools, lumber and shipbuilding—and guaged that for four years, "idleness due to strikes constituted one-sixteenth of one per cent of the time actually worked."

who is supposed to have spent his life on his pony strumming a guitar and wooing ladies under balconies.

The old tradition is that a "Charro never sleeps." Brownsville guests had their share of snoring while at a premium.

Thousands thronged Laredo today for its forty-third Washington birthday celebration, four days of festivities dedicated to a good neighbor policy that the nation's first president preached.

Honor guests were three governors who call themselves "Amigos"—W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas, and Magdaleno Aguilar of Tamaulipas and Bonifacio Leal of Nuevo Leon, Mexico.

Laredo posted no costume rules—as long as dress was significant. Some wore a colonial motif—hoop skirts and a dozen petticoats for the women, powdered wigs and buckled shoes for the men—and some wore Mexican—sombros and serapes.

Street dancing, troubadour singing, a bloodless bullfight, Indian rodeo—Brownsville will spare nothing. Men will grow beards and dress like the Charro—a glorified Mexican cowboy—

BRITISH MIDDLE EAST COMMAND IN SOMALILAND DRIVE

TROOPS SMASHED ACROSS JUBA RIVER, DRIVE AGAINST CAPITAL AND PORT

CAIRO, Feb. 20.—(P)—The British Middle East command announced today its troops had smashed across the Juba river in Italian Somaliland in a drive northeastward toward Mogadiscio, capital and major port of that East African colony.

The crossing of the river apparently was made just north of the captured port of Chisimale in the region of Gelib, on the east bank of the stream.

Counter-attacking Italians were beaten back, today's communiques said, adding that "operations in this area are developing well."

The forcing of the river followed five days of fighting against bitterly resisting Italians. Repeated RAF dive-bomb assaults of the Fascist positions helped clear the way for the British infantry.

Prior to this advance the British had announced the occupation of 10,000 square miles of Italian Somaliland up to the Juba River.

Mogadiscio, their main objective, is some 225 miles north of Gelib on the Indian Ocean.

At this outpost, the front, to the north, an official announcement at Nairobi, Kenya, said the Italian garrison at Mega, in southern Ethiopia, had capitulated to south African troops.

At this outpost, forty miles inside Ethiopia from the Kenya border, 600 prisoners, mostly Europeans, were reported captured along with rifles and machine-guns.

South African airmen, striking ahead of these land forces, reported a heavy assault on Yavello, 200 miles northwest of Moyale, on the Kenya-Ethiopian frontier. Direct

CONTINUED SUCCESS OF BRITISH AFRICAN TROOPS IS REPORTED

FASCIST GARRISON AT MEGA CONSISTING OF 600 TROOPS CAPTURED

(By The Associated Press)

British South African troops eluding into Italian-occupied Ethiopia were reported today to have captured the fascist garrison at Mega along with 600 prisoners, while other British forces were locked in heavy fighting with the Italians on the Somaliland front.

Mega is 40 miles north of the Kenya colony frontier, where the South Africans started their drive into the kingdom taken from Emperor Haile Selassie in 1935-36.

Premier Mussolini's high command said the British had made "repeated violent attacks" in an attempt to cross the Juba river, in Somaliland.

British general headquarters in Cairo said British troops had crossed the Juba river, fighting off Italian counter-attacks.

In the battle of Britain, RAF bombers raked the "invasion ports of Brest and Calais on the Nazi-held French coast as German night raiders strewn their cargoes of death and destruction on London, Plymouth, Portland, and Swansea, Wales.

Nazi bombs wrecked a block of a big London hospital, killing several patients in bed and a nurse. Other patients were buried in the debris, but rescue squads, doctors and nurses, working by flashlight throughout the night, extricated all the trapped survivors by dawn.

In another London district, an elderly woman was killed when seven high-explosive bombs fell; two pedestrians died, and two children were killed asleep.

A Port of Swansea Damaged.

A British communique acknowledged severe damage at Swansea, South Wales industrial port, including "a considerable number of houses and business premises."

Japan renewed efforts to soften pedal war alarms in the Orient. Nevertheless, British residents of Thailand (Siam) were officially advised to leave as thousands of newly-arrived Australian troops manned defenses in Northern Malaya, bordering Thailand, and Japanese warships were reported massing in the Gulf of Siam.

SNOW, RAIN AND SLEET SWEEPS INTO PORTIONS OF TEXAS

FORECAST IS FOR GENUINE ASSAULT BY WINTER BY NIGHTFALL THURSDAY

By The Associated Press.

Snow, sleet, rain and cold numbed a goodly portion of Texas and Oklahoma Thursday with prospects of a genuine assault by nightfall.

Temperatures skidded to the low twenties in the Texas Panhandle and on the plains, with snow apparent in some spots and sleet replacing rain.

A moderate cold wave was forecast for the southeast portion of West Texas tonight, with occasional snow in the north and rain in the south.

Light sleet covered the ground at Pampa, where 22-degree weather prevailed. It was 23 degrees at 7 a. m. with a faint coating of snow and earlier rain turning to ice. The temperature was near freezing at Plainview with a light drizzle falling.

Inclement weather at College Station forced postponement of the national defense week review of the Texas A. and M. Cadet Corps. Continued cold and rain would cause abandonment of the review, re-scheduled for Friday afternoon.

Readings of 31 degrees were reported at Wichita Falls and Lubbock, but way down south Corpus Christi had a 58-degree minimum and Brownsville, 63.

Other readings: Dallas, 39 and 41; Abilene, 37; Amarillo, 25 and a trace of rain; El Paso, 41; Galveston, 60; Houston, 55; San Antonio, 53.

Cloudy, rainy weather, with a light freezing rain, was forecast for the southern portion of East Texas with sleet at the extreme north. Freezing temperatures were expected tonight.

Small Craft Warning.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 20.—(P)—A small craft warning was issued today for the Texas coast. The United States weather bureau advisory follows:

"Small craft warnings displayed 9 a. m. (Central Standard Time) Texas coast. Increasing winds and heavy rain, with occasional strong this afternoon and tonight."

BRITISH INDUSTRIAL PORT OF SMANSEA IS ATTACKED BY NAZIS

GERMAN BOMBERS ALSO WRECKED BLOCK OF LONDON MUNICIPAL HOSPITAL

LONDON, Feb. 20.—(P)—The industrial port of Swansea, in South Wales, and London, which were wrecked one block of a large municipal hospital, killing several patients and a nurse, bore the brunt of last night's attacks by the German air force.

Reliable sources said 19 were killed and 52 injured in the hospital.

The government said bombers raked Swansea with high explosives, demolishing a considerable number of houses and business premises.

A direct hit was scored on the London hospital, demolishing a part of it and killing several patients in their beds. On nurse's body was found under the wreckage.

Other patients were buried in debris. Rescue squads, doctors, and nurses worked by the rays of flashlights through the night to release them.

Rescue work was halted when a delayed action bomb was discovered near another wing of the hospital. The patients were quickly removed.

All trapped survivors had been released.

TURKISH PRESS IN NEW VERSION PACT WITH BULGARIANS

DECLARED BULGARIA HAS PROMISED NOT ENTER TRI-PARTITE PACT

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Feb. 20.—(P)—Officially controlled Turkish newspapers said today that the Bulgarian-Turkish non-aggression accord is insurance that Bulgaria will not join the axis and that it actually constitutes an obstacle to any German advance through Bulgaria to Greece.

"Bulgaria promises not to enter the tri-partite pact," said the newspaper Vakit.

"It would not be easy for Germany to go to fight in Greece against the Greek and Turkish army unless prepared to meet the Bulgarian army."

The newspaper Tan said it was an exaggeration to interpret the declaration "as the British do, that it is a wall to further German penetration of the Balkans, or, as the Germans say, that it is a political defeat for England."

This declaration was made simply to reassure Bulgaria that our preparations in Thracia (the frontier region) are not offensive in nature, Bulgaria indicates her unwillingness to allow German soldiers to pass through her territory.

"At the same time Bulgaria is to be helped by German drive, but a German march through the Balkans."

GEN. GEO. MARSHALL, ARMY CHIEF OF STAFF, TALKS TO COMMITTEE

SECRET SESSION OF SENATE MILITARY AFFAIRS COMMITTEE ON DEFENSE PLANS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—(P)—Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, was reported to have told the senate military affairs committee today that the United States intends to reinforce the Pacific fleet immediately with an unspecified number of the latest type of army and navy fighting planes.

Declining to reveal, even in the secret session of the committee, the number of planes to be dispatched for this purpose, Marshall was said to have described the situation in the Pacific as "serious."

Some committee members said Marshall refused to comment on administration policy in relation to the Far Eastern situation but assured them there was no intention on the part of army and navy chiefs to strip American defenses in the effort to speed in war equipment deliveries to Britain.

Prefacing his remarks with the warning that what he was divulging to the committee was not his secret, General Marshall was reported to have specified what he considered "an irreducible minimum."

Italian Report Success.

ROME, Feb. 20.—(P)—A quick counter-attack by Italian forces was reported today by the Italian high command to have beaten off with "considerable losses" an "enemy" assault on the oasis of Cufra in the Libyan desert.

The communique did not identify the attackers, but "Fascist" forces operating from the Chad territory previously have been reported active in the Cufra area.

SETTLEMENT STRIKE IN ALLIS-CHALMERS PLANT NOT REACHED

INSTEAD WALKOUT THREATENED TO SPREAD TO PLANTS IN OTHER CITIES

(By The Associated Press.)

Despite an official prediction that today would bring an end to the month-old strike which has held up work on $45,000,000 in defense orders at the Allis-Chalmers Milwaukee plant, the strike persisted and even threatened to spread to four of the firm's plants in other cities.

Richard Frankenstein and Ed Hall, international officials of the CIO-United Automobile Workers Union, left Milwaukee last night after withdrawing from negotiations with the company and saying they could see no purpose in further conferences.

Only yesterday William S. Knudsen, director of the office of production management in Washington, forecast that the dispute would be settled by Monday.

COUNTER-ATTACKS OF ITALIANS IN ALBANIA REPORTED REPULSED

BATTLE LINES NOT MATERIALLY CHANGED DESPITE REPORTED GREEK SUCCESSES

ATHENS, Feb. 20.—(P)—Greek soldiers pressing the Italians in Albania without let-up were reported today to have repulsed three fascist counter attacks in two days and captured two "stubbornly" defended villages.

However, the battle lines in Albania apparently have not changed materially in some time, despite continuing Greek reports of successes. The Greeks have not yet taken Tepeleni, key point in the drive on the southern Albanian port of Valona. The counter-attacks reported here presumably were in the Tepeleni sector.

The Greek government spokesman reported that in one "Fascist" of the fighting a fascist company which had begun to retreat was fired upon by fellow Italians and forced back to the front lines.

The counter attacks by the Italians cost them heavily in men and material, the spokesman said. Three hundred Italians and much equipment were captured in yesterday's fighting alone, he added.

Washington, Feb. 20.—(P)—Senator Reynolds (D-NC) announced today that he was opposed to the administration's British aid bill because he was convinced that its enactment might lead the United States directly toward a declaration of war.

Beginning the fourth day of debate on the measure in the senate, the North Carolina senator described it as "a bill for the defense of the British empire at the expense of the lives of American men and at the expense of the American taxpayer."

His opposition came as a surprise to many senators because Reynolds had voted with the administration majority to report the measure from the foreign relations committee for senate consideration. He has consistently refused previously, however, to say whether he would support the bill.

"I want to state," Reynolds told his colleagues, "that I am not opposed to giving aid to England as provided under existing statutes. However, I am bitterly opposed to any subterfuge or the circumventing of the present statutes by any type of legislation such as this, which we are now being called upon to vote upon."

Reynolds termed "ridiculous" a statement by Wendell L. Willkie, the 1940 republican presidential nominee, before the foreign relations committee, that the question of whether Reynolds would support the committee that if Britain fell to morrow this country would be in the war within 30 to 60 days. Questioned further, Willkie said that if he did not believe that Britain would attack the United States "in a relatively short time."

Reynolds said Willkie was an "alarmist," and he also added: "In the eyes of every military man, he made the ridiculous statement that if we aid Great Britain to the extent of providing planes for her with which she can attain supremacy of the air, that she would reconquer all of the territory taken by Hitler."

BRITISH ACTION AT SINGAPORE FINALLY SETS UP POSTED SIGN FOR JAP PLANS FOR EXPANSION

By DEWITT MACKENZIE, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Britain's heavy reinforcement of her great naval base at Singapore doesn't challenge Japan to combat, but it does at long last set up the blunt "no trespass" sign which has been gathering dust in John Bull's basement because of his heavy commitment in Europe. Nippon has declared this to be a "belligerent act. If the taciturn J. Bull said anything he presumably would term it merely a defensive move, although to judge from the determination and finality he is displaying, one might equally expect him to reply "so what!"

Whatever way you look at it, however, it in effect calls for a showdown of the Japanese hand. John Bull is prepared for an argument.

It isn't unlikely that Britain would get a quick response were it not for one circumstance. That is America's firm stand, not only as regards her own interests in the Far East, but at the all-out supporters of the British against the axis powers.

Nippon appears to be rather painfully disturbed to read in the writing on the wall that Uncle Sam regards her in exactly the same light as Germany and Italy to the question of the question of war on Britain. America's decision to strengthen her naval bases in the Far East has brought the charge from Tokyo of "warlike preparations." The American and British moves, however, have made the Japanese pause for consideration, as is apparent from their disavowals of any hostile intentions.

Japan's chief concern undoubtedly is with our attitude. If she had to deal only with Siam, already hard pressed by the British in the West, the picture would be far different.

The Japanese cannot afford to tangle with America. Quite apart from any military or naval operations, the United States could play havoc with Nippon by clamping a blanket embargo onto all our exports to her.

Since Japan is dependent on us for virtually all her essential war materials, we could cut about stop her fighting machine altogether. The Japanese economic po-

TWOFOLD PREPAREDNESS

Alert to the social and economic problems created by the World War, many Americans are rightly determined to avoid similar errors in the present crisis and in another war, if it comes. That is as it should be. By forethought and preparedness many evils can be prevented or made less serious. But it is necessary to divide the nation into two camps on the subject of defense: those who believe military preparedness is of greatest importance, and those who believe, with a recent speaker, that "social strength of our people and sound family life are more important than guns and ammunition."

The Scandinavian countries and Holland had those requirements in abundance. Indeed, they have long been recognized by the rest of the world as examples of genuine civilization. Almost wholly free from slums and poverty, highly literate and cultured, peaceful, they thought they did not need guns and ammunition to protect themselves. Sweden, which was better prepared than the others to fight aggression, is the only one of the group which has not suffered direct attack, but its situation now is far from free.

In a sane and decent world, with no mad dictators carving themselves new world power, social strength and sound family life alone might save a nation from all perils. In a world threatened by military might, the wise will also be militarily strong.

SECURITY FOR FREE PEOPLE.

"My war aim is... social security," declared Ernest Bevin, Britain's Minister of Labor, in a speech to the London, England, Rotary Club reported in the current issue of The Rotarian magazine. "If this old country is beginning to weave that into its economic life, now, even while the struggle is going on, is not that the answer to Hitler?"

"If Hitler wins, as indeed if the Kaiser had won, we should have had rule from the top, and that would have meant in certain cases, probably, a social structure in which the masses of people would have been looked upon principally as soldiers for fighting," said this worker who has risen from a childhood of toil to become not only Britain's Number One laborite, but also the veritable czar of labor in England. "Ours has been a different struggle."

"Probably the biggest contribution factor to the present disaster," Bevin continued, "was the failure to erect an economic basis on an entirely different footing for the development of humanity at the end of that (previous) struggle. We have to erect a different one this time. Unemployment has been the devil that has driven masses in large areas of the world to dictators—to turn to anyone. Unemployment and poverty led to social disaster."

"We must begin now, even while the heat of war and the din of battle are on," Bevin insisted, "and, apart from the interests of the moment, let the citizens of his country direct their aims and energies to contributing to the common good, for, after all, the youngest of us has not a long road to go, the young-

BALLAD OF PLAYING SAFE.

Since there is always a Jones about,
Or a Smith or a Johnson the cap might fit,
A writer must keep an alert look out
Lest somebody make an affair of it.
And claim to have suffered a mortal hit.
All characters used must be fancy-bred
And (or sheriff will call with a legal writ)
Refer to nobody living or dead.

Name Mrs. Skinny or Madam Stout
To toast awhile on your paper spit,
And all of their evils beyond a doubt
Somebody publicly will admit,
Insulating because of your burning wit
Her cheekbones honest must be shameful red,
So be sure the people you write to Resemble nobody living or dead.

Ere ever a villain you dare to clout,
Or a craven to chide for his lack of grit,
Or you mention the village's good
And his whiskey breath in your brightest bit,
Your work to a lawyer shrewd submit
To be certain on nobody's toes you tread,
Then add: the persons that fill this skit
Resemble nobody living or dead.

Envoys.
Writer, if you would yourself acquit
And live untroubled the years ahead;
There's only one way to avoid the pit.
Refer to nobody living or dead.

est of us has not a long time to contribute."
Finally, Bevin declared, "I believe there is in the minds of the great people who have contributed so much to political freedom the same kind of ability which can make, probably in our generation, the greatest contribution the world has ever known to the solution of the economic laws which have caused so much disaster and distress."

SUPER-MEN IN TROUBLE.

Dictatorship is not doing so well lately. Look at Mussolini, the first example of this form of concentrated government in western Europe. For a while he seemed to be getting along nicely by holding all his cabinet meetings under one hat, but something has happened to the hat or the head, and we find poor Italy rather suddenly reduced to the status of a fourth-rate power, with little neighbors kicking it around.

One commentator on this case ascribes the Duce's hard luck to his having no "Congress or its equivalent" to check over his decisions and keep him from making major errors of policy and floundering ever deeper into trouble. It's the old story of many heads being better than one.

"Would it not be better," he suggests, "before sneering at our democratic form as low and archaic, to consider the fate that is now overtaking the first great experiment in modern totalitarianism?"

And how about the second great experiment? Hitler himself, the master of them all, doesn't seem to find the going so good now.

"BETTER" TIMES

We seem to have come rather suddenly into what we used to call "good times." We do not like the times now, as regards the national and world situation, but at least the wages are good.

In the steel industry, which is usually taken as a standard the average worker was better off in the last quarter of 1940 than he was in the famous year of 1929. His wages, $33.05 for an average week, were nearly $3 less, but his hours were shorter and the buying power of his wages was actually 7 per cent higher than in 1929. Wage scales have risen a little more, too, by this time, and this process may continue as rearmament requirements increase and the margin of idle workers lessens.

Money is earning more, too. Investors and merchants and industrialists are doing better. There are not such fancy profits now as there were in the hectic twenties, and there is a general effort to hold down prices. But there is so much

WPA APPROVAL FOR COUNTY-WIDE ROAD PROGRAM SECURED

A preliminary step toward the inauguration of a county-wide WPA road construction program has been accomplished, according to a telegram received Tuesday by E. D. McCormick, county judge, from Senator Tom Connally. The message stated that the president had approved such a project.

The Navarro county commissioners' court several weeks ago adopted a resolution relative to a county-wide road building program, but at the present time has not started any definite project. There has been considerable discussion among the members of the court relative to the likelihood of using the refund from the bond assumption act of the state in retiring bonds over a period of years without the necessity of making any additional tax levies on Navarro county properties. A project embracing the final expenditure of more than $1,000,000 has been discussed, and several conferences have been held.

"This is a proposed project (county-wide) merely serving as a basis for any road plan that might be adopted by this county," Judge McCormick stated Tuesday afternoon. "Nothing will be done until the court decides upon a plan, it has been emphasized. The presidential approval, however, eliminates the necessity of taking individual projects through the routine of presidential and other approval channels in Washington and when, and if, the commissioners decide upon a road to be constructed, the project goes only to the district and state offices, saving days and weeks of time, it has been stated."

Telegrams' Contents. The telegram received from Senator Connally stated: "President has designated Project No. 40495 in amount $307,377 to reconstruct and improve roads throughout Navarro county, including widening, clearing, grubbing, grading, surfacing, and constructing and reconstructing drainage structures, eliminating traffic hazards, widening and sloping structures, constructing water retards and performing incidental and appurtenant work. Project now eligible for operation at discretion of state work projects administrator."

While no official action has been taken, general consensus of opinion expressed by individual commissioners indicates that if such a program is sponsored, they will favor and insist on locating the "farm-to-market" roads on present routes of county roads without the necessity of purchasing new right-of-way, thereby making available all the money for building as many miles as possible.

"Build-Up" Important Protector of Women

A weak, undernourished condition often enables functional dysmenorrhea to get a foothold; thus leads to much of woman's suffering from headaches, nervousness, and other periodic discomfort.

CARDUI's principal help for such distress comes from the way it usually stimulates appetite; increases flow of gastric juice; thus aids digestion; helps build energy, strength, physical resistance to periodic pain for many.

Another way, many women find help for periodic distress: Take CARDUI a few days before and during "the time." Women have used CARDUI for more than 50 years!

Pavehouse, Frost, forward, set the scoring lead when she accounted for 12 points during the evening. Russell of Barry was second, with 10 points.

A. A. Armstrong of the local faculty was the director of the girls' tournament. While the tournament is not sponsored by the University of Texas Inter-scholastic league, the same rules and regulations are observed.

The Frost girls had little difficulty here Monday night against the Dawson six, winning 35-12. Barry defeated Richland in their semifinal tilt, 17-13.

Powell scored out, Bryan, 17-16, in one of the toughest seasons of the tournament for third place honors in the B division while Blooming Grove defeated Elmhouse, 14-9, for the third place in the A ranks.

Nature Study Club Members Meet With Mrs. Z. T. Banks

Thirteen members of the Nature Study Club enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Z. T. Banks at her beautiful, new suburban home on Highway 31, Tuesday afternoon, February 18, the regular meeting date of the club.

The members met at Kinloss House at 3:30 p. m. with Mrs. S. H. Burnett as leader of the afternoon's program on "Birds Here Now," which dealt with the migration of birds. When all had assembled, Mrs. Burnett extended Mrs. Banks' invitation to the club to drive out to her home for the meeting. All accepted the invitation and left once, enjoying the two of three mile drive out to the Banks home.

After viewing the home which is modern, comfortable and attractive in every respect, the members in the spacious living room where Mrs. J. E. McClung presided over the business session.

Mrs. Tracy Smith, secretary, called the roll, with responses on different phases of nature, which is always an interesting feature of the meeting.

Following the reports of the officers, Mrs. Burnett reported on the Bundles for Britain, which is to be reported by the Civil Interest Committee of the Woman's Club House Association, and the report of the year book committee, with Mrs. R. W. Knight, chairman, giving the final reading of the outline and course of study with program participants and hostesses for the 1941-42 season which will open September 23, 1941.

Mrs. H. J. Ellis, who is program leader for the meeting Tuesday, March 4, extended an invitation from Mrs. R. B. Mollay to meet with her at her home, as the program is to be, "A River Trip," with slides.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Burnett who gave a most interesting discourse on "The Migration of Birds," in which she brought out the when, how and where birds migrate; routes, the need for protection, the advantages of migration, the several theories of why birds migrate, and the dangers to the birds as they migrate. This broad subject, which began some 300,000 years ago, is still mystifying, but many points are being cleared by the unceasing investigations and study and through the banding of birds, a government project.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. McClung thanked Mrs. Burnett, and the meeting was adjourned for a social hour with Mrs. Banks, who refreshed her guests with ice cold drinks and delicious cake.

Surprise Shower Is Given As Farewell To Mrs. Jack Megarity

Misses Martha Ann Waddell and Margaret Willard were joint hostesses for a surprise miscellaneous shower and a most informal farewell tea in compliment to Mrs. Jack Megarity, before her departure, Saturday, for Brownwood to join her husband at Camp Bowie.

The honoree was the former Miss Joan Ramsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Ramsey, and the shower and tea were given from 4 to 6 p. m. at the home of Miss Waddell on West Fourth avenue, at which time fifty friends of the honoree and hostesses called.

A long table was arranged for the gifts, with Mrs. Megarity deriving much pleasure in opening the attractive packages as they arrived.

After greeting the hostesses and honoree, and viewing the array of gifts, the guests passed into the dining room, where a very attractive lace laid table was presided over the first hour by Misses Nancy Pittman and Billy Lou Gunlock, and the second hour by Misses Mary Elizabeth Marshall and Patsy Ramsey.

The table was centered with yellow jonquils and dainty sprays of spiraea arranged in a crystal bowl, flanked by tall yellow tapers in matching, crystal candleholders. The girls named, presided over the punch bowl, and all helped themselves to the dainty cookies in silver trays, salted nuts and candy mints in silver bowls.

POSTERS, HANDBILLS WARN FRENCH FATE OF FAILURE CO-OPERATE

PARIS (Via Berlin), Feb. 11.—(Delayed)—(P)—The French are being told through posters and handbills these days "what they are losing" by failing to cooperate with the Germans in rebuilding their own country and Europe in general.

Recently distributed along with and Mrs. J. G. Willard, mothers of the hostesses, were Mrs. Joster Pittman and Mrs. E. E. Burkhardt.

copies of Petit Parisien were three pictures.

One showed a German industrialist and a French farmer shaking hands. In the background were a busy farm and smoking factory chimneys. In the upper corner was a circular inset of a prisoner returning from a German prison camp to the outstretched arms of his wife and children.

The second picture showed a valiant Petain trying to rise above the wrangling of petty politicians, Jews, money changers and seekers of special favors, in this discard.

The third picture contained a warning—a future without collaboration was depicted as a flaming barren wasteland, asphyxiated and the entire landscape overshadowed by a dark flame and reddened clouds.

CONTRACTORS ARE WARNED TO AVOID GRAFT, CROOKEDNESS

U. S. ARMY CONSTRUCTION
CHIEF SPEAKS TO ASSO-CIATION, HOUSTON

By WILLIAM T. RIVES.
HOUSTON, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Declaring "there can be no reason whatsoever for graft or crookedness," Brig. Gen. Brehon Somer-vell, U. S. Army construction chief, told American Contractors today
that "integrity x x x must and always will be the watchword of this great national defense construction program."

General Somervell, in an address before the convention of the Associated General Contractors of America, added, however, "I know
we see eye to eye and agree that when this job is over, a record
for honesty and integrity must have been compiled x x x that will uphold the highest ideals x x x
and traditions of the U. S. Army and American business."

He also admonished the builders
to itemize expenses in connection with the defense program.

"x x x Despite the rush-nature
of this job, it must be carried out
as economically as possible."
"Wanton waste ranks only below
actual crookedness in the handling of public funds."

"This is one program that must not be infected with the demerit
of graft," he declared.

General Somervell also asserted
there must be no influence or suspicion of influence in connection with the awarding of contracts.

The army construction head said
the contractors thus far had done
an excellent job, despite ill weather
and the gigantic scope of the program.

"Not all the mud through which we have been wallowing, of course,
has come off the lot. Much of it has been synthetic, thrown at us by hostile critics. If any of it sticks, it must be our fault.
For those shortcomings that can be explained, but not excused,
some of it may be deserved."
"The law of averages, however,
is bound to prevail," in such a large program, he said. "We all make mistakes, even those who attack us, fairly or unfairly."

M. W. Watson of Topeka, Kas., vice-president last year, was included into the presidency today,
and D. W. Kimball of Grand Rapids, Mich., was installed as vice-president.

RAF Activities.
LONDON, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The navy base at Brest and docks at Calais, both in German-occupied France, were attacked last night
by British aircraft, the air ministry announced today.

The air ministry's communique
said:
"Last night coastal command
aircraft attacked the enemy naval base at Brest and the docks at Calais. None of our aircraft is missing from these operations."
Earlier, in former sources had reported that bad weather had kept the RAF from making any major sortie against Germany.

tries which could be used for naval and military moves against Singapore.

Sweeping economic concessions
also were demanded, the reports
said.

Hongkong and Bangkok reports
said that 15 units of the Japanese fleet were known to be operating in the Gulf of Siam, north of Singapore. These advances coincided with previous reports from Saigon that two Japanese squadrons were in those waters.

Pro-British Sentiment.
Within Indo-China the Japanese asserted that "pro-British"
sentiment of the French colony was increasingly evident and that efforts were being made to instigate a boycott of Japanese commercial interests to frustrate a possible "Japanese economic thrust."

The Japanese said that Indo-China was establishing import-export control, to the detriment of Japan, and also attempting to monopolize the rubber trade at Japan's expense.

On the military side, the Japanese accused the French of attempting to obtain 200 British military planes to be used in part
by 100 "Free French" aviators,
who the Japanese said had arrived in Indo-China in throwing Indo-China into the British camp.

From Bangkok, Thailand, the capital, came word that both British and Dutch were departing at the urgings of their respective governments.

(A dispatch direct from Bangkok made no mention of the Dutch. But said that Britons had been advised to remove women and children.)

The reported Japanese troops
movements recalled reports that Japanese forces in Formosa and Hainan total 90,000. Moreover, Japan has large forces on the south China coast in the Canton region.

CONGRESS

conquered territory, the foot soldier of today is just as necessary
as was the foot soldier of Napoleon's day. It would be easier to conquer a country by radio waves, propaganda, than it would be to conquer or reconquer a territory
without the actual employment of soldiers on the ground."

Reynolds brought up, too, what he said was a statement of Navy
Secretary Knox that the United States was dependent on maintenance of the British navy for its future security.

Actually, Reynolds asserted, Britain "admits that unless we go to her aid she is lost."

Dependent Upon Us
"In view of the fact that we are constantly being called upon to give assistance to Great Britain in the form of energy, wealth, and the blood of our men in order to maintain the British empire," he said, "it appears to me that they should acknowledge, if some Americans won't, that they are dependent upon us to maintain their world-wide empire, rather than
that we are dependent upon them
for our continued existence."

The last war, Reynolds said,
should have demonstrated to the United States that she gained little toward saving democracy by chas-
tity or civilization by fighting.

Involvement in the present war,
he said, would be "directly contributing to the destruction of American democracy."

"Upon the shoulders of the American taxpayer billions of dollars in additional indebtedness will be placed," he continued, "and our nation will be virtually bankrupt
and we will be responsible for the unwarranted murder of American soldiers, and we will wind up with hunger, poverty, disease, pestilence, unemployment, perhaps revolution, and serious assaults will be made on our present American way of life."

British Propaganda
British propaganda, the North Carolina senator said, "has swept
the American people off their feet"
so that some Americans "who are interested only in the defense, protection and preservation of Americanism are branded by some as dupes and fifth columnists" because they have not given full support to the British aid program.

"The first line of defense is here
at home, not thousands of miles away," he continued. "And the single truth of the matter is that Britain herself does not believe that our first line of defense is over there."

"I confess to the accusation that I am an isolationist," Reynolds said. "I believe that we should look after America first, x x x Administration leaders turned thumbs down on a chance to pick up several more votes for the British aid program at the price of further restrictive modifications in the legislation."

One republican strategist declared that at least five opposition votes could be won for the bill in such a "trade," but the question brought the reply that those guiding the bill were satisfied with its present form.

tonio, Hot Wells (San Antonio) and Weatherford.

The senate held a brief executive session but made no report
on several nominees of Governor
W. Lee O'Daniel whose confirmation or rejection is pending.

Without opposition or amendment, the house passed to the senate the judiciary appropriations bill for the next biennium. Both branches adjourned until Monday.

Gas and Pipelines Object More Taxes

AUSTIN, Feb. 20.—(AP)—A levy
of $8,650,000 a year on top of what they are now carrying would hang an unfair load on the backs of Texas' natural gas producing and pipeline companies
in the opinion of several witnesses
before the legislative tax hearing.

That, in effect was the testimony of a number of gas company spokesmen yesterday before the house of representatives
committee on revenue taxation
which is conducting a series of public hearings in search of new ways to get money for social security spending.

While the tax group labored
through the longest session to date, a senate committee whisked out a favorable report on boosting the daytime speed limit
on Texas highways from 45 to 60 miles an hour but amended and sent to a sub-group a proposal intended to strengthen the driver's license law.

Despite a scheduled public hearing and to the disgust of its sponsor, a proposed constitutional amendment upping the state's contribution to individual old age pensions from the current $15 to $20 went begging for action and was reset for hearing Monday.

Unanimous approval, however,
was given by the transfer of unused monies in other funds to their general fund for the support of hospitals and other charitable and relief purposes.

Confirmation Recommended
A senate committee recommended confirmation by the upper legislative chamber of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's appointees, Maco Stewart of Galveston
and Joe Frost of San Antonio,
to the state board of education.

The group also approved a number of minor appointments.
On the request of its auditor,
a bill which assertedly would
"take fire and police departments
out of politics" by establishing a civil service system for such employees was held over in a house committee following a public hearing.

The same group reported favorably by unanimous vote legislation authorizing Texas A. and
M. College directors to borrow
$1,494,000 from the Reconstruction
Finance corporation to construct six new dormitories and other buildings.

Representatives of the Natural gas companies said their firms
would willingly pay their share of required higher taxes but that neither gas nor the group of natural resource industries should be singled out to pay the whole
cost.

H. J. Graesser, Marshall City manager, told the tax committee
he hoped the legislature would not take from the cities the right
to charge utility companies rental for the use of city streets.

The cities have a serious financial problem, he said, adding Longview and Tyler officials were in accord with his view.

The city manager declared one tax bill before the committee, as he interpreted it, would deny the right to charge utilities rental.

Hospitality Not Dimmed
AUSTIN, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Texas
traditional hospitality apparently is as alive and hearty as ever.
Vincent E. Schoeck of Detroit,
national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, is a witness.

Addressing the house of representatives, on the theme of patriotism and preparedness, Scho-
eck said:
"The hospitality extended me in Texas surpasses that in any other state I have visited."

Complications Adjusted.
AUSTIN, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Interstate complications were quickly adjusted in the Texas Legislature today, resulting in an invitation for Governor Sam Jones of Louisiana to address the Texas
lawmakers Feb. 24.

"Did somebody in Louisiana

write this?" jokingly required a senate member concerning the resolution extending the invitation.

The measure referred to the "general assembly" of Texas. In this state the winning body is officially named the Legislature.
"Well, I guess we understand the Louisiana lingo enough to know it means 'Legislature,'"
drawled Lieut.-Gov. Coke Stevenson, president of the Senate.

The resolution, already adopted
in the House, received unanimous Senate approval.

Bounty on Rattlesnakes
AUSTIN, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Heading Senator Houghton Brownlee's urgent plea that Burnett county is the headquarters for all rattlesnakes, the upper branch of the legislature sped to final passage
today a bill authorizing a bounty
for each reptile destroyed in that county.

"You want to start killing them
right away, don't you?" queried Lieutenant-Governor Coke Stevenson who guided the house approved bill quickly through all parliamentary proceedings.

It authorizes the commissioners court to set the price paid
for snakes and predatory animals.

May Probe Election Violations
AUSTIN, Feb. 20.—(AP)—A senate investigation of possible election law violations was suggested
today by Senator Joe Hill of Henderson.

He said he would be glad to
co-operate with the senate's general investigating committee of which he is not a member.

Hill served on the committee,
a sort of senate grand jury, for
two years but was not reappointed by Lieut.-Gov. Coke R. Stevenson this year.

He promised he would make a suggestion for the investigators
each Thursday for the remainder of the general session.

"The law prohibits the spending of money by corporations to influence the result of elections,"
he declared in a personal privilege speech.

"Perhaps the committee would want to know whether slush
funds have been expended and whether the election laws have been violated otherwise."

Aid to Britain, he was reported to have told the committee could be speeded up materially by passage of the British aid bill, since co-ordination of production for the British and for the army and navy
would then become possible.

This, he was quoted as saying,
would eliminate especially competition over various types of planes.
Once the bill became law, he said,
one production head could determine the standardized types of planes to be produced for both the British and American forces
and industrial production could be speeded on these types.

Senator Lee (D-Okla.) leaving
before Marshall had finished, told reporters that the army chief had given "all in all a rather optimistic picture about England's chances."

"He told us some rather encouraging things," Lee said.
Committee members were urged to secrecy about Marshall's
testimony, but some said the chief of staff gave an "optimistic picture" of the American defenses
and the progress of the British aid program.

Division Move March 1
WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—(AP)—
The transfer of the 48th Division
from Fort Sill, Okla., to Camp
Barkley, near Abilene, Texas, will be made about March 1, the war department announced today.

The division is a national guard
unit composed of troops from Colorado, Oklahoma, New Mexico
and Arizona, plus some selective service recruits. Its present strength is between 9,000 and 10-000 men.

The movement to Camp Barkley will be made by rail and motor carriers.

Quick Action Appropriation Bill.
AUSTIN, Feb. 20.—(AP)—The house of representatives took only eight minutes today to pass
a bill appropriating $4,597,000
for the biennium starting Sept. 1.

The proposal was the judiciary appropriations bill, the first of the five major money measures.
Rep. W. Reed of Dallas, chairman of the appropriations committee, said the house was running approximately two months
ahead of time in consideration of the money bills.

He declared no opposition to the bill, and no amendments were offered. Reed explained that the bill's final draft would be written by a conference committee.

The proposed appropriation,
which now goes to the senate,
was approximately $60,000 higher than the judiciary appropriation for the current biennium. Reed
said that population growth necessitated this increase in the 10 cents per capita apporportion-ments to counties for officers'
salaries. The total was $160,000
below that recommended by the state board of control, Reed said.

a legal holiday, there will be no
city delivery nor rural delivery.

DIVORCEE DECLARES GERMAN CONSUL IS NAZI SPY LEADER

SUIT FOR ALLEGED MONEY
OWED BRINGS OUT CHARGE AGAINST WEIDEMANN

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 20.—(AP)—A divorcee who asserted that Captain Fritz Weidemann owed her money for investigating his status with Adolf Hitler, described the Nazi consul general in a law suit today as head of the German espionage system in America.

The complaint, filed in superior court by Mrs. Alice Crockett, an attractive brunette, sought $8,000 from Weidemann, Hitler's former personal adjutant, in payment for an alleged visit to Germany.

Mrs. Crockett, a Swiss native who said she once played in moving pictures under the name of Alice Gulden, asserted she went to Germany at the request of Weidemann who wanted her to find out if he still was a Hitler favorite.

"I'll bunk," said Otto A. Hoecker, the attorney whom Weidemann said would do his talking for him. Hoecker referred to the complaint which made the following charges:

Under a verbal agreement with Weidemann, Mrs. Crockett left San Francisco June 9, 1939. She returned the following December after having spent $5,000 of her own funds, which she wanted returned, along with payment of an agreed salary of $500 a month for the six months she was gone.

Hitler, Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels and Field Marshal Hermann Goering all assured Mrs. Crockett that Weidemann, consul general here since March, 1939, was properly doing his consular work and also his duties as "chief of the espionage service" of the German government in this country.

Hoecker said Weidemann's version of his relations with Mrs. Crockett shaped up in the following manner:

She came to the consulate in the Spring of 1939 and professed interest in the Nazi philosophy and wanted to work for Germany in this country. But Weidemann told her he had no place for her.

That summer, she wanted to go to Germany and asked Weidemann for a letter of introduction to German movie industry leaders. Weidemann tried to dissuade her, but reluctantly gave her a letter to a Mr. Paul, German film leader.

In the Spring of 1940, Mrs. Crockett wrote from New York that she was ill and needed money. Weidemann charitably sent her $100. In November she asked for a $500 loan, which Weidemann refused.

"The upshot of it was this suit," Hoecker said, "and the business about propaganda and espionage was obviously inserted to prejudice the case."

And in Washington, Japan's new ambassador, Admiral Kichiburo Nomura, left no doubt that Japan is bent on further eastward expansion in the Pacific—"peacefully and economically" if possible.

But, he added:
"I cannot say with absolute definiteness that Japan will not resort to force."

"Demand" Mediator.
Dispatches from Shanghai pictured Japan in the curious role of "demand" mediator in the conflict between Thailand and French Indochina, making sweeping military and economic claims in the two countries while supervising their "peace conference" in Tokyo.

Previously, Japanese officials had asserted their only motive was to restore peace, denying that Japan would exact concessions as a price for her mediation.

At the same time, Japan appeared to be rapidly hauling in her "trial balloon" suggestion that Japan might mediate in the European war. Domel declared that "particular exception is taken to the London version of the 'peace offer by Japan' of which, in the view of the whole Japanese (public), there could be no question."

The British press has termed the mediation suggestion a "peace offensive" in the axis diplomatic game.

Nazi Spectre Over Greece.
The specter of Nazi intervention continued to hover over Greece as her small but tough army fought to retain the initiative against Italy in an Albanian campaign that appeared to be stalemate.

Although the Greeks reported new local successes, there was no indication of material change in the battle lines, and observers drew the conclusion that the Italian aid by the weather, were recovering from early setbacks.

Lack of news from Balkan capitals served only to increase speculation concerning the intentions of the Germans, who—with troops massed along the Bulgarian-Rumanian frontier—are expected to launch a menacing shakedown over Greece.

Equally enigmatic was the attitude of Turkey, whose recently negotiated non-aggression pact with Bulgaria has been interpreted in some quarters as indicating she no longer could be considered an adverse factor in axis encroachment in southeastern Europe.

No German Victory.
The Turkish press and radio, however, insisted that the pact could in no way be regarded as a German diplomatic victory and that Turkey's relations with Greece and Britain remained unchanged.

"We are Greece's best friends," one Turkish newspaper asserted. "We believe in her and we know victory will be hers."

Other Istanbul papers characterized the treaty as the beginning of "a new Balkan entente" and said that if war broke general in the Balkans it would be Germany's responsibility.

There was no immediate Japanese reaction to the action of the United States house of representatives in passing and sending to the senate a bill which would provide funds for expanding and improving U. S. Naval stations at Guam and Samoa.

Jap Mediation Denied

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—(AP)—Domel (Japanese news agency) said in a broadcast from Tokyo today that "Japanese public opinion continues to protest energetically against any attempt to connect Japan with international mediation action" in Europe.

The broadcast said that such action "would be doomed in advance to failure."

Domel failed to reconcile this attitude with word from London that a special message offering mediation services had been received from Japan and with a Japanese spokesman's previous expression of Japan's readiness to mediate "anywhere in the world."

Domel said that "particular exception is taken to the London version of 'peace offer by Japan' of which, in the view of the whole Japanese (public) there could be no question."

Pioneer Literary Club in Regular Session Last Week

KERENS, Feb. 20.—(Spl.)—The Pioneer Literary club meeting in regular session Friday, Feb. 14th, was charmingly entertained by Mrs. E. H. Norton and Mrs. A. E. Harrison. In her living room Mrs. Norton used yellow and white daffodils, jasmine and asters with white tapers. In the dining room the Valentine motif was portrayed by the use of a circular arrangement of Japanese japonica, white asters, and pink tapers which centered the table. Scattered about the surface of the pine-apple linen cloth, were tiny cupid, hearts, bows and arrows which completed a lovely picture.

The unusually interesting program on "Hawaii and the Philippines" was led by Mrs. L. H. Carroll.

After a business session directed by Mrs. G. H. Sanders, club members were ably presented:

"Hawaii—America's National Park in the Pacific"—Leader, Solo: "Alohae!"—Miss Bertie Mae Stevens, with Mrs. A. S. Pritchard at the piano.

"Philippines—Problem Child of the Pacific"—Mrs. Howell Brister. The last named part was made doubly interesting by the passing of numerous pictures, portraying the life, manners and customs of these islands and by the reading of a long descriptive letter from a personal friend who had spent three years in the Philippines as the wife of a lieutenant commander of the navy.

The personal touch which makes any subject more humanly interesting marked the company. The program and club members visited with Mrs. Pat Murphy, Mrs. A. J. Paschal, Mrs. A. L. Bain, Mrs. Weyman Price, Mrs. P. D. Norton and Miss Stevens guests, during the serving of an appetizing plate, which also featured the frozen theme in cherry and whipped cream topping of the delicious cherry filled doughnuts, heart-shaped candies, and coffee.

Mrs. Youngblood

KERENS, Feb. 20.—(Spl.)—The A. H. Youngblood home, was the meeting place of the Kerens Garden club on Thursday at which time Mrs. Robert Campbell was co-hostess with Mrs. Youngblood. A pink and white color scheme was faithfully observed in decoration of living and dining rooms, with the lace covered dining table featuring an arrangement of Japanese japonica and white tapers, which was most inviting. Pink roses in a antique fruit basket on the buffet, and a white wire scroll with two small pots of the same lovely flowers between the two windows together with the dainty wedgewood china, silver and crystal with which the table was set, made an interesting grouping.

Roll call was answered with "A civic work that would beautify Kerens."

"Flowers that Turn Winter Into Spring" was the topic discussed by Mrs. Albert Berry.

Mrs. W. L. Bain followed with "Sure Steps to Early Spring Blooms."

"Let's keep a Garden Note Book" was the suggestion of Mrs. Brook Smith.

"Gardening Guides" by Mrs. S. J. Jennings completed the program and a tea hour was enjoyed by members and the following guests: Mrs. Lee Couch, Mrs. Kate Hilliard, Mrs. Annie Ford, Mrs. G. H. Sanders, Mrs. Fred Jennings, and Miss Adelaide Young.

AGAINST SHIPPING
REPORTED BY BERLIN

BERLIN, Feb. 20.—(P)—The sinking of two British armed merchantmen by speedboat torpedoes, successful bombing of four large merchantmen and the firing of a British destroyer were reported today by the German high command after a sweep against British land and sea objectives.

Combat units of the Luftwaffe also "bombed dock facilities in London, Swansea, Plymouth and Chatham," the daily communicate said, while in the Mediterranean warfare, bomb hits were scored on two large merchantmen in a raid on the British-captured Libyan port of Benghazi.

Five British pursuit planes were downed in the Mediterranean, and the Germans acknowledged the loss of two planes.

Informal sources had reported that British naval base on the English south coast, was bombed also, but the communicate did not mention it.

The communicate said that a single speedboat, operating in heavy fog, sank two armed merchant ships totaling 10,000 tons in the southern part of the North Sea, while planes on armed reconnaissance struck Merchantmen in convoy north of the Hebrides and off the English East and southeast coasts so heavily that their loss is apparent.

The destroyer bombed and fired according to the high command, was off Harwich, on the east coast.

TEXAS LAWMAKERS WERE BACK AT DESKS THURSDAY BUT HAD
MEMORIES OF BRILLIANT EVENT

AUSTIN, Feb. 20.—(P)—Texas lawmakers were back at their desks in the capitol today, laboring at the comparatively dull tasks of statecraft—but they had their memories.

Last night, clearing their minds of complex legislative problems and donning their best Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes, they indulged in a glittering social event—Governor and Mrs. W. Lee O'Daniel's reception for Texas officials at the state mansion.

The affair brought together at the Texas Whitehouse, only occasionally the scene of so large a function, the 181 legislators, departmental and commission heads, and their wives or friends.

For four hours, several hundred guests filled through the spacious lower floor of the mansion, pausing to renew acquaintance or chat with co-workers and friends about matters that would seem inconsequential if mixed with capitol business.

Every one of the large rooms was jammed.

As one of their number remarked, "I believe Texas has too many lawmakers. We ought to play under every other one and maybe we could breathe."

Those visiting the Governor's home for the first time inspected the furnishings, while oldtimers spent the evening in social conversation.

In the receiving line with the Governor and First Lady were Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Coke Stevenson, Adjutant-General and Mrs. J. Watt Page and Attorney-General and Mrs. Gerald Mann.

Mrs. O'Daniel, wearing a white lace gown with fur-trimmed bolero jacket and orchid corsage, graciously greeted each guest personally. The Governor beamed and conversed with all.

In the state and family dining rooms, where refreshments were served, the guests were met by the young O'Daniels, handsome Pat and Mike, and Molly, the pretty brown-eyed daughter.

Molly, attractive in her pale gold frock and a red carnation tucked in her dark brown hair, dashed back and forth to see that everything progressed smoothly in the dining rooms.

At night the mansion doors were closed, and possibly not until another two years have elapsed will Texas officials assemble again in one social group.

spent the evening in social conversation.

In the receiving line with the Governor and First Lady were Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Coke Stevenson, Adjutant-General and Mrs. J. Watt Page and Attorney-General and Mrs. Gerald Mann.

Mrs. O'Daniel, wearing a white lace gown with fur-trimmed bolero jacket and orchid corsage, graciously greeted each guest personally. The Governor beamed and conversed with all.

In the state and family dining rooms, where refreshments were served, the guests were met by the young O'Daniels, handsome Pat and Mike, and Molly, the pretty brown-eyed daughter.

Molly, attractive in her pale gold frock and a red carnation tucked in her dark brown hair, dashed back and forth to see that everything progressed smoothly in the dining rooms.

At night the mansion doors were closed, and possibly not until another two years have elapsed will Texas officials assemble again in one social group.

LOCAL REGISTRATION PART OF NATIONWIDE PROGRAM OF LEGION

ALL FORMER SERVICE MEN REQUESTED TO FILL OUT QUESTIONNAIRES

Fresh off the press in Indianapolis, Ind., a shipment of questionnaires for the local registration, Saturday, Feb. 22, of members of The American Legion and other World War veterans here, for national defense purposes, reached the Johnson-Wiggins Post No. 22 today.

Post Commander C. E. McWilliams announced that all arrangements have been completed to register every local Legionnaire and World War veteran if possible. The local registration is part of the nationwide program of The American Legion to catalog the qualifications and talents for future possible home defense service of all Legionnaires and war veterans. The registration is to be entirely voluntary. There is nothing compulsory about it.

The registration will provide local posts everywhere, their department headquarters, and national headquarters of The American Legion with complete indexes of the qualifications, experience, education and special training of every member, and war veterans in general. These indexes will constitute a vast pool of American Legionnaires with complete indexes of the qualifications, experience, education and special training of every member, and war veterans in general. These indexes will constitute a vast pool of American Legionnaires with complete indexes of the qualifications, experience, education and special training of every member, and war veterans in general.

The February 22nd registration will be entirely voluntary on the part of the local Legionnaires and World War veterans, said Commander McWilliams. "We must not lose sight of the fact that the national constitution of the American Legion specifically provides that the Legion is a civilian organization. Membership in The American Legion does not affect nor create any liability for military or police service."

"Accordingly the duty which might conceivably be requested of the Legionnaire or World War veteran as a result of his filling out The American Legion national defense questionnaire will always be voluntary in character upon his part."

"We know that practically unanimously American World War veterans will welcome this opportunity of placing themselves in a position of serving their country and community in case of an existing emergency's requiring such service."

"It is considered that the vast reservoir of practical experience existing within the membership of The American Legion and the potential utilization of this experience, should be cataloged in such a manner that the information contained therein will be readily available to the leadership of The American Legion, should the need for our services be made evident by the constituted authorities of the Federal, State and Local governments."

"We appreciate that the voluntary accomplishment of the registration provided by the use of the questionnaire forms will be a task of great magnitude and that its completeness will be dependent upon the loyal cooperation of every local Legionnaire and World War veteran."

SPRING HAT DISPLAY.

A short time ago I went to a luncheon at the Plaza to see a showing of spring hats by Lily Dache, and spring coiffures by Charles of the Ritz. Little hats, big hats, tall hats, low hats, tailored hats, those with yards and yards of misty veiling and others with none at all; hats that showed the Veronica Dengel coiffure—others that hid it—were all shown in the collection. And in every case the coiffure was designed to suit the hat as well as the wearer. Both of these creators of fashion believe firmly that real chic involves a fundamental unity between hats and hair, and that the milliner and the hair-dresser should act in close co-operation when seasonal changes in fashion are being formulated.

In recognition of the important pompadour which seems to be the accepted hair fashion, the hats—even those with definite forward movements—were so designed that the hat starts behind the pompadour, rising from the back or crown of the head. Much femininity was evidenced in trimmings of flowers, veillings, ribbons and filmy fabrics, and in some cases the hat seemed to be nothing more than two huge clusters of flowers above each ear in oriental fashion.

A surprising use of fur trimmings, pale straw hats was shown, and in each case an enormous bag made of the fur was used to complement the costume. This seemed appropriate enough on the snowy day of the showing, but I'm afraid a hot spring day would make the fur bag a rather heavy note in the costume.

One enormous black picture hat trimmed with an unbelievable amount of maling veiling tied in a graceful bow behind the head, beautiful and picturesque on the model, but unfortunately for many of us we do not go to many formal occasions that would permit such an extravagance for our wardrobe.

Glass hats were an interesting new note; and one striking effect was shown of a hood hat, neck-lace and gloves, all made of Vinylite. It looked exactly like spun sugar—new, but not very practical. The gay turbans, tiny sailors, sweeping cavalier styles, flower clusters, and big shade hats offer a variety to suit any type or occasion.

When you begin thinking about your new spring outfit—and it won't be long now—try a new hair style. If it is becoming, and some variation of the pompadour will present an entirely new picture of You—1941 edition. The same You, but smartened up, prettied up, and happy in the knowledge that you are up to the minute a satisfying feeling for any woman!

WORTHAM, Feb. 20.—(Spl.)—The old Wortham oil field of 1924 gives promise of a paying come-back. With present drilling and completed wells on pumps, the stir and move of oil field machinery, derricks lighted at night, are beginning to look very interesting to Wortham people.

MACKENZIE

sition could be rendered desperate by such a move and by the severance of the vast ordinary trade between the two countries.

As things now stand the British and Japanese are fairly well set for action. The position is so tense that it would be too bad if a somebody accidentally let off a gun, for it might start hostilities. The situation is this:

The Japanese, taking advantage of France's collapse, have established a military and naval base in French Indo-China. They have a considerable land force there, and a large fleet is said to be cruising in those waters. This gives Japan a powerful position about midway between Britain's Singapore and the Philippines and only some 600 miles from each.

Singapore, which is one of the most powerful naval bases in the world, is the giant which guards the gateway between the Indian Ocean and the Pacific—the lane between Western Europe and the Orient. It is the guardian of the Malay Peninsula and the vast rich Dutch East Indies which the Japanese covet so greatly to further their program of self-sufficiency.

A successful attack on Singapore would just about make Japan at least temporary mistress of the Far East.

Despite these circumstances I see no reason to change the view previously expressed in this column, that Japan isn't likely to strike at Britain unless very sure that Germany has the war all but won.

SELLING AT LOW MARK AND MARKET SHOWS ADVANCE

NEW YORK, Feb. 20.—(AP)—

Stock buyers found the market

cuppboard rather bare of offerings today and were forced to

hike bids 1 to 3 or more points

to take home favorites.

Selling died up notably at the opening and prices began a steady

return move which reached best

levels before mid-day.

Transfers approximated 450,000

shares, just about equalling the volume of the preceding session.

Prominent stocks on the forward jaunt were U. S. Steel,

Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet,

General Motors, Chrysler, An-

aconda, Kennecott, U. S. Rubber,

Westinghouse, Santa Fe, Great

Northern, Chesapeake and Ohio,

International Harvester and United Aircraft.

Rail loans steered the bond

department on a recovery ride.

Major commodities generally exhibited strength. Tin futures were strong, both here and in London

in reflection of a possible interruption of shipments from the event of a rupture with Japan.
